NOVEMBER 20. 1740. NUMB. 623.

The Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

LISBON, Auguſt 5.

THE Maſter of a French Ship lately arrived here, complains, that upon entering into this Port, an Engliſh Man of War, which was at Anchor under the Fortreſs, had diſcharged five or ſix Guns at him, of which Inſult he cannot comprehend the Reaſon. The French Merchants eſtabliſhed here, have thereupon demanded Satisfaction at the Court, and M. de Chavigny has alſo complained of it.

London, Aug. 6. Laſt Month the Ruſſian Miniſter in Sweden acquainted that Court, that her Czariſh Majeſty thinking proper to ſend out ſome Men of War from Cronſtadt, in order to exerciſe her Sailors, ſhe hoped, if contrary Winds, or a Tempeſt, ſhould oblige thoſe Ships to put into any of the Swediſh Ports, they would find there all neceſſary Aſſiſtance. To which that Miniſter receiv'd a ſatisfactory Anſwer; and it was added, that the King hoped, that if any of his Men of War were in like Manner obliged to take Shelter in the Ruſſian Ports, they would find there, in caſe of Need, a ſuitable Return: Which Compliments ſeem to intimate, that neither of theſe Powers have an Inclination to break with the other, notwithſtanding the war-like Appearances that are ſtill kept up.

The Day after the Execution of M. Wolinſki at Peterſbourg, Count Muſſin Puſkin, one of his Confederates, was tried, and upon full Proof, convicted of treaſonable Practices; whereupon the ſame Sentence that was paſſed upon Wolinſki, was pronounc'd againſt him. As ſoon as he heard it, he uttered ſo many, and ſuch violent Invectives againſt the Empreſs, that his Judges order'd him to be gagg'd; ſoon after which, Prince Trubetſki came and told him, that tho' he was utterly unworthy of any Favour, yet the Empreſs thought fit to grant him his Life, but that his Tongue was to be pluck'd out, and that he was then to be baniſh'd into Siberia. At that Inſtant there appeared an Executioner, who, with the Aſſiſtance of 5 or 6 People, executed the former Part of the Sentence, tho' with ſome Difficulty; for he defended himſelf as long as he could, and till his Tongue was pluck'd out, inceſſantly threw out Invectives, particularly againſt the Duke of Courland and the Count d' Oſterman. In this Country the Spirit of Rebellion ſeems to run vaſtly high; for the brave Count Munich, notwithſtanding the Glory to which he had rais'd that Empire by his Succeſſes in War, has lately had a Doſe of Poiſon given him in a Cup of Chocolate, which miſſed of the intended Effect, but has ſo ſhaken his Conſtitution, that it is feared he will never perfectly recover: And Count d'Oſterman, the greateſt Miniſter Muſcovy ever ſaw, has had Letters threatening to aſſaſſinate him; for which Reaſon the Empreſs has ordered him a Guard. In the mean Time, as the Princeſs Elizabeth is, contrary to her Inclination, ſet up as a Pretendreſs to the Crown of Ruſſia, by theſe Traitors, her Guard has had ten Men added to it, to ſecure her from any Accident or Inſult. As the Czarina is the Patroneſs of the Greek Church, it is highly probable that ſome of the Roman Catholick Prieſts have a Concern in fomenting theſe Conſpiracies; which, if true, muſt attach that powerful Empire to the Proteſtant Cauſe in Europe, if the Proteſtant Miniſters knew how to make the proper Uſe of it.

Sept. 1. Several eminent Merchants of this City have agreed to fit out a Privateer with a ſufficient Force of Men and Arms againſt the Spaniards, the Command of her to be given to Capt. James Wimble, who is well acquainted with all the Spaniſh Settlements in America, and has been a great Sufferer by the Spaniards.

Sept. 2. Yeſterday came Advice, that his Majeſty's Ship the Garland has taken and carried into Genoa, a Spaniſh Privateer of ten Guns, who had in Tow a ſmall Engliſh Veſſel, which the Privateer had juſt before taken up the Mediterranean.

Letters from Dartmouth ſay, That a Privateer of ten Guns, ſeventy Men, and a great Number of ſmall Arms, was come into Dunkirk Harbour.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague.

" Since the States General have unanimouſly confirmed their Reſolution for augmenting their Forces by Land and Sea, ſome of the foreign Miniſters have been in great Agitation, which is enough to convince People who are clear-ſighted to ever ſo ſmall a Degree, that the Diſcourſes and Declarations of a certain Court are far from exactly expreſſing its real Sentiments. Perſons who ſeem'd to look with an Eye of Indifference upon what paſs'd in reſpect to the Augmentation, and who even appeared to give their Approbation of it, have not only, ſince it has been reſolved upon, manifeſted their Aſtoniſhment, but likewiſe ſhew'd a hearty Diſlike to it. This has naturally occaſioned much Reflection amongſt the principal Perſons of the Republick. The Ambaſſador from Spain, not being able to contain himſelf after this Matter was concluded on, was not content with talking mighty warmly againſt it, but ſet a French Scribler to work to write a Pamphlet of three or four Pages, which has been ſince publiſhed under the Title of The Opinion of a Dutch Patriot. He therein ſupports, that the States General had not the leaſt Cauſe for taking this Reſolution, and points out the bad Conſequences it may have to the Republick, eſpecially in giving Spain a Pretence of objecting to their High Mightineſſes having any Part of the Work of the Pacification, which is endeavouring to be brought about between her and Great-Britain; the latter of which it goes on to inſinuate, will not of her ſelf be over-forward in aſſiſting the Republick to obtain any Advantages in Commerce with Spain. The Author of the above Pamphlet does not keep the Character of a Dutch Patriot (with which by his Title he ſets out) a ſingle Moment, but in the very firſt Period diſcovers himſelf to be a Spaniſh Zealot.

The Marquis de St. Gilles, before the above Reſolution paſs'd, by Directions from his Court, declared to their High Mightineſſes, that his Catholick Majeſty, to ſhew them how much he was ſatisfied with their impartial Conduct in the preſent Conjuncture, had ſent poſitive Orders to his Governors in America to forbid the Spaniſh Privateers from moleſting in any ſort the Dutch Ships, the Intention of his Majeſty being that they ſhould enjoy a perfect Liberty of Navigation and Commerce to their Colonies, conformable to Treaties; and that as to the Differences ſtill ſubſiſting in reſpect to certain Ships having been taken, they ſhould be determin'd with the utmoſt Expedition, to the Satisfaction of their High Mightineſſes."

Spaniſh

Edinburgh, Aug. 28. Tueſday laſt the Dean of the Guild and his Council attended his Grace the Duke of Argyle with the Compliments of the whole Guildry: they were received in the moſt agreable manner, and his Grace took Occaſion to inſpire them with the beſt Sentiments of Duty towards their King and Country, and with a noble Concern for Liberty in general.

My Lord,

'We are deputed by the Guildry of the City of Edinburgh, 'to wait upon your Grace with the Compliments of that Body, 'and in their Name to return yon their hearty Thanks for the 'many Favours which they owe to your Grace.

'They think it doubly their Duty to give you this publick 'Mark of their Gratitude. As Citizens of Edinburgh, for the 'Protection which you gave in ſo generous and ſo ſucceſsful a 'manner to this City and Magiſtrates thereof, when her Privi'leges, and even her very Being, as a Corporate Body, were 'in the utmoſt Danger: As Britons, for your diſintereſted Be'haviour in Parliament.

'They are very ſenſible how cloſely the real Intereſt of the 'King and Country is connected with the Independency of Par'liaments; that it is the Duty of every good Subject and true 'Lover of his Country, to have that in their View in all Elections; 'and ſo far as they have any Influence, it ſhall be employed for 'promoting ſo valuable a Purpoſe.

Signed in the Name and by appointment of the general Meeting of the Guildry. George Haliburton.

Yeſterday his Grace the Duke of Argyle ſhew'd himſelf, for the firſt Time, publickly in this City; it is impoſſible to expreſs the Satisfaction which appeared in every Countenance; all degrees of People throng'd about and attended him; and in the Afternoon when he return'd to his Lodgings, the People gave many loud Huzzas----He walk'd up the Streets wirh the Dean of Guild on his Right Hand, and Mr. Patrick Crawford of Auchineams, Merchant, on his Left, and din'd at Mr. Archibald Stewart's, Wine Merchant, where were preſent moſt of the Deacons of the Trades, with other Members of the Council.

London, Sept. 6. Our Advices from Madrid ſay, that an Expreſs is arrived there with the News that the Duke de la Conquiſta, the new Vice-Roy of Mexico, is ſafely arrived at Vera-Cruz: This Expreſs was diſpatched from Carthagena by Don Blas de Lezo, and it is ſaid he has brought over a Plan for executing an important Enterprize againſt the Engliſh in America.

Letters from Barcelona adviſe, that they are getting ready another Convoy of Troops and Warlike Stores for Majorca.

We hear from Rome that the Pope was crowned the 21ſt of laſt Month, N. S. The Chevalier St. George and his eldeſt Son, have already complimented him on that Occaſion: Cardinal Picus de la Mirandole has aſſum'd the Title of Protector of Great-Britain, and put up the Arms of this Crown over the Gate of his Palace.

Some Letters from Madrid ſay, that the Ferrol Squadron is deſigned for attacking the Troops that are to embark under the Command of Lord Cathcart.

London, Sept. 8. Our Letters from Baſtia adviſe, that the French bring in Corſican Priſoners to that Town from Time to Time, ſome for one Thing and ſome for another, but moſt of them are taken up upon Suſpicion of holding Correſpondence with the Rebels. A young Man of the Pieve of Lento has been hang'd at Baſtia, and another of the Pieve of Flumorbo is ſentenced to be broke alive upon the Wheel.

From Ajacco we hear, that the French have brought into that Town 8 Corſican Priſoners, among whom is the Aid de Camp of Baron Neuhoff's Nephew, and two Clergymen charged with having furniſhed the Malecontents with Proviſions; all thoſe Priſoners, they ſay, will have a hard Time on't.

Sept. 10. We hear from Paris, that the Company who have the Grant and Direction of all the Mines in Normandy, have lately diſcovered a Copper Mine in that Province, which, they ſay, will enable them to do without that of Hungary.

By our Advices from Coire we hear, that above 140 Soldiers deſerted from the imperial Troops in their March through the Griſons Country, and ſeveral of them having been taken, were handcuff'd and loaded with Irons, to hinder them from deſerting again; but the Peaſants hearing of this, took it into their Heads that they ought not to ſuffer any Men to be led in that manner through a free Country; and thereupon they aſſembled in great Numbers, and not only ſet the Deſerters at Liberty, but alſo forced the imperial Eſcorte to take the Flints out of their Pieces. In the Skirmiſh a Subaltern Officer was kill'd, and ſeveral Soldiers wounded on the Side of the Imperialiſts. A Body of 500 Imperial Recruits, who were marching through the Country of the Griſons, no ſooner heard of this Affair, but they took their Route through the Tyroleze.

London, Sept. 11. Letters from Paris of the 17th Inſtant N. S. ſay, that they expect, by the firſt Courier from Rome, a Liſt of thoſe that are to be created Cardinals in the next Promotion: And that the Pope is now chiefly employ'd in ſettling Affairs relating to the Intereſts of the Roman Catholick Princes and States.

London, Sept. 16. Yeſterday Orders were ſent from the Admiralty to the Nore, to his Majeſty's Ships the Guernſey, Chicheſter, and Cheſter, of 50 Guns each, and the Roebuck of 40, to ſail directly from thence to Helvoetſluys, to wait his Majeſty's Arrival there, in order to convoy him to England.

Sept. 17. All his Majeſty's Servants have poſitive Orders to be on board the Yachts this Day.

Sept. 18. The Grampus Sloop is arrived with an Expreſs to the Lords of the Admiralty from Admiral Haddock, adviſing, That twelve French Men of War, ſuppoſed to be the Toulon Squadron, went into Carthagena, and brought out four large Spaniſh Ships of War, and then proceeded for Alicant, where they took Water, and ſailed again; they appear'd to be deeply laden.

Sir Chaloner Ogle has hoiſted his Flag on board the Ruſſel Man of War at Spithead, which was Admiral Balchen's Flag-Ship.

Yeſterday Admiral Balchen ſet out for the Buoy of the Nore, to take upon him the Command of the Ships that are to convoy His Majeſty from Holland.

Several Letters by the French Mail confirm the Repairing of Dunkirk, that 150 Cannon are arrived there, and that the Marſhals d'Aſfeldt, Belliſle, and Boufflers, were there.

London, Sept. 20. The News of the Breſt and Toulon Squadrons ſailing from their reſpective Ports, being confirmed, great Debates ariſe amongſt the Politicians here concerning their Deſtination, ſcarce any Body believing that what the Marquiſs de Fenelon told the Deputys they were intended for was real; but on the contrary, think they have abſolute Orders to lend Aſſiſtance to the Spaniards in caſe they ſhould meet with any remarkable Defeat from the Engliſh.

It's reported that Sir John Norris, Vice Admiral of England, has reſign'd his Commiſſion in Diſguſt.

The King of France, it's ſaid, has publiſh'd a Manifeſto, in which are contain'd Reaſons for ſuccouring his Catholick Majeſty, and for cauſing the Breſt and Toulon Squadrons to ſail.

They write from Dover, that the St. George, Baſely, is arrived there in eight Days from Oporto, who brings Advice, that his Majeſty's Sloop the Bonetta, has taken and carried into Oporto, a Spaniſh Privateer of 10 Guns and 50 Men.

Boſton, November 10. On Friday laſt arrived here Capt. Hall, in about Seven Weeks from London, in whom came Letters to ſeveral Merchants in this Place from their Correſpondents at Home, with Advice that there was a great likelihood of a French War.

On Saturday laſt, Capt. Hoar, arrived here in Six Weeks from Briſtol, who informs us, that in his Paſſage he met a Veſſel at Sea, the Maſter whereof inform'd him that he came out in Company with Lord Cathcart, and the Tranſports, with 44 Men of War, and kept Company with him ſeveral Days; who were all deſign'd for the Weſt Indies.

New-York, November, 17. Saturday laſt arrived here Capt. Ratſy in 6 Weeks from Dublin, by whom we have Advice, that an Embargo is laid on all Veſſels which have Beef or other Proviſions on board for Exportation; that in Cork and Belfaſt there were upwards of 150 French Men loaden with or waiting for Beef, &c. who were all ſtopt by the Embargo. And they write that the News of a French War was expected every Poſt from England.

By Private Letters from London we likewiſe hear, that on the 25th of Sept. it was ſaid there Lord Cathcart was ſail'd; that an Embargo would ſoon be laid on all Veſſels at Home; that they every moment expected a French War would break out, and that his Majeſty was not return'd.

We hear 3 Spaniſh Privateers have been lately taken in the Channel by our Men of War, and carried into one of our Ports.

Yeſterday evening arrived here Capt. Morgan, from S. Carolina; who ſays, that on Tueſday laſt he ſpoke with a Brig. going into Philadelphia, who inform'd him that about a Week before he ſpoke with Capt. Phænix from London, bound to this Place, who told him, that he came out in Company with Lord Cathcart, with whom ſail'd near 90 ſail of Men of War, Tranſports, &c.
